Periodic Table of Asset Class Returns

The Importance of Portfolio Diversification

Canadian investors, similar to investors around the world, tend to have a "home bias," and generally invest a large portion of their portfolio in our domestic markets. However, diversifying investments globally can help reduce the overall risk of your portfolio and provide access to opportunities not available in Canada.

The Periodic Table of Asset Class Returns shows the annual returns of various asset classes, as measured by its appropriate global market index,<sup>1</sup> and ranks them in order of performance – from best to worst – from 2011 to 2020 (in CDN$).

To discuss the value of diversification, please contact your BMO financial professional, who has access to a range of investment opportunities across global asset classes.
